CATALOGUE.

THE HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE

- 700 1 AUSTRIA. Emp. Max. I, 1509. Emperor on horseback in armor. R. 27 coats of Arms Field slightly polished. Double Thaler, v. good, v. rare 2 1-16 in.

The Emperor Maximilian was called "the last of the Knights," his reign terminating the age of chivalry. He was the patron of Amerigo Vespucci. On this coin will be found the arms of England, to the Kingship of which Maximilian actually pretended through the descent of his consort Mary of Burgundy from Stephen and Matilda.

- 750 2 — Circa, 1500. $\frac{3}{4}$ cwnd bust of King r, with lily sceptre R. 4 coats Arms Thaler, good, very rare 1 11-16 in. Seldom seen in such perfect condition.

This and following lots to 81 are Thalers, unless otherwise mentioned. It is interesting to note that there are multiples of this coin up to 10, and the divisions are as low as 192. We have seen 1-192 for Lubeck, 1706, and 1-84 for the use of Wurzburg, both in billon.

- 250 3 BOHEMIA. Ferd. I. (as King), 1546 Cwnd half fig. in Armor, with sceptre R. eagle with Arms of Bohemia, those of Leon and Castile on shield of pretence, fine, scarce 1 $\frac{1}{2}$

During the reign of his brother, the Emperor Charles V., Ferdinand was King of Bohemia and Hungary and reigning Duke of Austria.

- 180 4 TYROL. Ferd. I. Circa, 1564 Half fig. of Emp. r. cwnd sceptre, left hand grasping sword hilt R. Imp. double eagle, Tyrol pretence. (72 er), fine, scarce and desirable coin 1 $\frac{5}{8}$

The title of "The Holy Roman Empire" was derived from the succession to the throne of Charlemagne.

- 300 5 BOHEMIA. Maximilian II, 1568 Mailed fig. of Emp. with orb and sceptre R. Double Eagle cwnd, very good, scarce 1 $\frac{1}{2}$

- 500 6 AUSTRIA. Rudolph II. (15) 90. Busts Jugata of Chas. V. Max. I. and Ferd. I. R. double eagle, Three Kaiser Thaler, very fine 1 $\frac{5}{8}$ This coin has been slightly engraved where weak on several letters only. Very rare and much sought after in Europe.
- 220 7 BOHEMIA. Rud. II, 1588 Cwnd Emp. stlg, with sceptre and orb bet. Arms of Bohemia and Hungary R. Imperial double Eagle, Arms and Fleece, fine, rare 1 9-16
- Prague, even in the most remote days, was the leading mint of Bohemia.
- 225 8 ALSACE. Rud. II, 1603 Laureated bust with ruff, date below. R. Cwnd Arms, Hapsburg provinces and Golden Fleece, fine 1 $\frac{5}{8}$
- Alsace, or Elsass, originally constituted part of the Frankish Kingdom of Austrasia, and has been in turn French and German till it was ceded to Germany in 1871.
- 153 9 TYROL. Rud. II, 1609 Laure. bust Emp. in armor, r. R. Arms with Tyrol pretence and Golden Fleece, fine 1 $\frac{5}{8}$
- 180 10 — Rud. II, 1610 Laur. bust in armor r. date in field r. R. Arms same as preceding, but with large crown, fine 1 $\frac{5}{8}$
- Numismatists have many times, in describing coins of the earlier sovereigns, had occasion to accentuate the wide discrepancy between the nominal and possessory sovereignty as indicated in legends. The titles and dignities became so multiplied and often so unreal that it was thought sufficient to enumerate them to a large extent by initials.
- 150 11 STYRIA. Ferdinand (II. as Archduke), 1617 Cwnd. half fig. in armor r. with sceptre and "Fleece" collar. R. Arms in "Fleece" collar with Styrian middle shield, very good 1 $\frac{5}{8}$
- This monarch was the great Catholic leader and champion of the Papacy in the Thirty Years' War, whose generals were Wallenstein and Tilly.
- 105 12 CARINTHIA. Ferd. II, 1620 Cwnd. Emp. with ruff (large head) R. Imp. Eagle with Arms and "Fleece" collar, Arms of Car. below, very good 1 11-16

- 13 STYRIA. Ferd. II, 1621 Large cwnd bust with ruff, date below. R. Arms in Imperial Eagle, Styrian shield below, very good 1 11-16

The gold coinage of this State dates from 1491, the copper from 1531, the thaler in 1574.

- 14 AUSTRIA. Ferd. II, 1621 Laur. bust with large ruff R. Arms on Imperial Eagle "of Austria" in legend below, fine 1 9-16

- 15 BOHEMIA. Ferd. II, 1624 Cwnd. Emp. stdg, with sceptre and orb, with sword girded. R. Bohemian Lion shield on Imperial Eagle, fine, scarce, defect in planchet on edge 1 5/8

Note as to defects in coins of this period. Being hammered with iron dies, the coins had to be heated red hot to make them soft enough for the impression. They were then thrown into a cask of water to cool, which often cracked, warped and distorted them. They were finally cleaned in a revolving - barrel of sawdust.

- 16 CARINTHIA. Ferd. III, 1638 Laur. bust in Armor, with drapery and Golden Fleece R. Ornate Arms, those of Car. forming crest beneath crown, supported by cherubs, fine, loop remov. 1 3/4

- 17 TYROL. Leopold I, 1668 Laur. bust with mantle over armor Lion shoulder-piece, Golden Fleece. R. cwnd Arms with Tyrol pretence Mint state 1 5/8

This Emp. for many years has been erroneously and vulgarly called "the Hog-mouth," when portraits that are in existence in European galleries show him to have been a man of particularly mild and pleasing countenance, resembling very much Chas. II. of Eng. It may also be noted that in this coin, as in the five succeeding, that every specimen represents a different type in an entirely different costume or armor.

- 18 STYRIA. Leop. I, 1684 Laur. bust with draped armor, "Fleece" R. cwnd Arms with Styrian Arms in circle above, Fleece collar, ex. f., near mint 1 3/4

- 19 CARINTHIA. Leop. I, 1689, laur. bust r. R. Arms cwnd, date above. Double Thaler, fine 2 1/4

The early princes struck Convention-money in alliance with their neighbors and the Counts of Tyrol; but the later Dukes of Carinthia possessed three mints: Voelkermarkt, Landestrost and Saint-Veit. There are also thalers of the Rosenberg family.

- 128 20 AUSTRIA. Leop. I, 1693 Laur. bust in armor, with flowing peruke R. Arms on Imperial double Eagle, fine 1 13-16
- 160 21 BOHEMIA. Leop. I, 1696 Laur. bust with huge peruke and weasel like features R. Bohemian Lion shield on breast of Imperial Eagle, very fine 1 13-16
The Hapsburg lip extraordinarily developed.
- 155 22 TYROL. Leop. I, 1699 Laur. bust in armor (hunch-back type) R. cwnd Arms with Tyrol pretence, very fine 1 11-16
- 190 23 AUSTRIA. Joseph I, 1706 Laur. bust in draped armor, large peruke, G. Fleece, etc. R. Austrian Ducal Arms on Imperial Eagle Usual titles, extra fine, near mint 1 3/4
- 110 24 TYROL. Jos. I, 1711 Laur. bust in armor, large peruke and G. Fleece R. cwnd Arms with Tyrol pretence and Fleece, very fine 1 11-16
- 190 25 SILESIA. Chas. VI, 1717 Laur. bust in draped armor, peruke, etc. R. Arms in Imp. Eagle with Silisian middle shield, fine 1 11-16
This province represented the gain of Frederick the Great from the Seven Years' War.
- 115 26 TYROL. Char. VI, 1721 Laur. bust in armor, with large curled peruke and Fleece R. double Eagle with Arms and Tyrol pretence, very good 1 11-16
- 200 27 AUSTRIA. Chas. VI, 1718 Laur. bust, draped armor, peruke, etc. R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, with Austrian middle shield, fine 1 11-16
- 155 28 TYROL. Chas. VI, 1737 Laur. bust with drap. over cuirass R. Imp. double Eagle with Arms and Tyrol pretence, mint state 1 5/8
- 185 29 AUSTRIA. Maria Theresia (as Queen), 1741 Youthful draped bust, curls with diadem. R. cwnd Arms on fanciful shield, griffins heads, fruit, masque, etc., near mint 1 5/8
- 150 30 TYROL. M. Theresia, 1753, bust decollete bust r. brocaded drapery R. double eagle cwnd, Arms on breast, near mint 1 9-16

- 65 31 AUSTRIA (Lower). M. Theresia, 1756 Diademed bust, curls, drapery over mail. R. Arms Austrian dominions on Imp. Eagle, small middle shield Unc. 15/8
- 80 32 BOHEMIA (Joachimsthal Mine.) M. Theresia, 1758 Decollete bust with curls and diadem, brocaded drapery. R. cwnd Joachimsthal Arms (St. Joachim, father of Virgin Mary-?, and Bohemian Lion) on Imp. Eagle, very good, very scarce 15/8
- Issued by the Counts of Schlick, and may be classed in that series also. The word Thaler was generally supposed to be taken from Joachimsthal in Bohemia, where the silver mines were worked about 1518; but this is undoubtedly not so, as the coin existed long prior to that date.
- 70 33 AUSTRIA (Annaberg Mine), 1758 M. Theresia, diademed bust, curls, drapery over mail. R. cwnd Imp. Eagle, with Arms Annaberg and Lower Austria, very fine, scarce 15/8
- 50 34 — M. Theresia, 1769 Veiled bust (1st var.), flat and weak R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, m. m. I. G. | S. K. (Stadt Kremnitz), fine 15/8
- 110 35 — M. Theresia, 1780 Veiled bust (2nd type) R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, I. C. F. A. under. An original coin of this date Unc. 19-16
- 20 36 — M. Theresia, 1780 Same as former, with exception that "S F" is under bust This is called a Levant or Handels-Thaler, and is a restrike (abt 1900) of the Thaler of 1780, and was employed in trade with Asia Minor, China, Africa, etc. Nearly mint 19-16
- 133 37 — Joseph II (Vita Matris), 1771 Laur. bust in draped mail. R. Hung. Boh. Aust. Lomb and Lorraine on Imp. Eagle, extra fine, 19-16
- 155 38 — Leop. II, 1790 Laur. "naked," bust and titles R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, near unc. 19-16
- 30 39 — Fran. II, 1802 Laur. "naked," bust, flowing hair, titles. R. Arms, etc., on Imp. Eagle, abt unc. 15/8

- 155 40 AUSTRIAN EMPIRE. Fran. I (late II), 1832 Laur. "naked" bust with short hair, titles, etc. R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, nearly mint 1 9-16
- 161 41 — Ferd. I, 1845 Laur. head and titles R. Arms on Imp. Eagle, near mint 1½
- 166 42 — Francis Joseph, 1855 Youthful laur. head and titles. R. Arms on Imp. Eagle Titles include those of the Italian provinces, nearly mint 1½
- 175 43 — Fran. Jos. and Eliz, 1879 Jugated busts and titles R. setd fig. and "Quintum Matrimonii Lustrum Celebrant XXIV Aprilis, MDCCCLXXIX." Silver Wedding Double Gulden. Near mint 1¾

 "HUNG: 1704, PATRONA." R. Arms and "REG: HUNG: MO: NOV: ARG:" Half Thaler, very good, loop remov. 1 7-16

Note as to loops and traces of such on silver coins. The majority of fine coins which have been preserved to the present day owe their condition to the fact that the peasant women of central Europe wore their dowries as jewelry, attending public gatherings, like fairs and dances, completely decked out with long strings and festoons of coins which undoubtedly added considerably to their attractions for their bucolic swains. If it were not for this little ethnological detail, the principal collections of the old world would be minus some of their choicest gems. Loop traces on a modern machine-struck coin are defects, but on those prior to the nineteenth century they are scarcely considered where the specimen is otherwise perfect.

- 175 131 SCHLICK. Louis I (Jagellon), King of Bohemia (1518). Bohemian Lion. R. St. Joachim, v. f. 1 9-16
 Gilbert could certainly have taken the life of this King for the subject of one of his "Bab." Ballads, as, born prematurely at the cost of his mother's life, at his birth he was almost without skin. Was betrothed before being born; crowned when he was two years old; placed on the throne in his tenth year; married at the age of fifteen; became a grey-beard in his eighteenth, and was killed at the close of his twentieth year. A striking legend concerning this coin is of Martin Luther. In the days of his direst poverty, being told by his wife that a beggar was at their door, Luther reached at once for his leathern pouch, and finding therein a solitary Joachims Thaler, apostrophised it, saying: "Out: you go, Joachim, the Lord Jesus is waiting for you outside!"

- 132 SCHLICK. Louis I, 1525. Same as former, but bearing date, very fine 1 9-16

This principality is said to have been the most prolific in coinage of any in Europe. There were four Mints: Joachimstal, Plau, Nurnberg and Prague.

- 133 — Heinrich (Count of Schlick), 1646. St. Ann, Virgin and Child, over the family Arms and G. Fleece. R. Arms and Title of Emp. Ferd. III, fine, loop. removed 1 ¾

- 340 140 TRANSYLVANIA. Michael Apafi (Waiwode), 1681.
Armored half fig. in fur hat with sceptre. R.
Arms, etc., very fine 1 11-16

It is a peculiarity in some of the coins of this Prince that the planchets were made slightly attached to each other at the edges, so that sometimes three or four coins are found joined together. We have seen a stick containing five pieces in a row, which at present is in the collection of Maerenthal in St. Petersburg. The right edge of this coin was probably attached to one or more at some time.

THE "LOW COUNTRIES"

The territories comprising the Kingdoms of the Netherlands and Belgium formerly existed as distinct principalities under the names, Guelders, Brabant, Luxemburg and Limburg—Duchies; with the counties of Antwerp, Holland, Zealand, Zutphen, Flanders, Arlois, Hainault, and Nemur; and the Lordships of Utrecht, Groningen, Overysel, Friesland and Mechlin. Having passed into the hands of Philip II, of Spain, seven of these provinces revolted, and their independence was finally acknowledged under the name of the "United Provinces." Things continued pretty much in this shape till Napoleon created the "Kingdom of Holland," and subsequent revolutions have established the present kingdom.

SWEDEN

There is no question but that the Dollar coins of Sweden are the most difficult as well as expensive to procure of those of any European country. In many cases, no matter how willing a person may be to pay large sums for rarities, yet the fact remains that they are well nigh impossible to procure. It took years of patient search in every quarter of the globe to gather the following series, and we offer it, confident that, outside of the foremost European collection, its like has never been equalled, and probably never will be, when once it is dispersed.

THE ITALIAN PENINSULA

- 535 MILAN, Philip II (n. d.) Armored bust r. R. Arms cwnd, Ducatone or "Fillipo" extra fine, extra rare 1 11-16

The following dollars, of which the above is the first, gives the finest series of Spanish Royal portraits of any series of Crowns. All are rough and distinguished by a peculiar square punch mark due to there being a flange to the die and being struck by hand the impression has a slanting effect. The above coin was lot 2953 in the celebrated Gneccchi Col. and was considered by him as one of the gems. We must impress upon the collectors that, owing to the fact that the Italian government has strictly prohibited the exportation of Italian coins, it is almost impossible to obtain even the commonest, which will undoubtedly increase their rarity to a high degree.
